

With a population of 271,000, the City of Saskatoon has experienced extraordinary growth and is Saskatchewan's largest city. With its diverse economy, high quality of life and exceptional cultural and academic opportunities, Saskatoon is the perfect city to build and grow your career, and raise a family. Known as a welcoming and diverse place to work, the City is committed to delivering exceptional public services to all its residents.

Director, Human Resources

Reporting to the General Manager, Corporate Performance, the Director, Human Resources leads a division of more than 50 staff. The Director provides strategic leadership, development, direction and support to the HR division in all human resources matters, including collective bargaining with the City's labour associations. As the leader of one of the City's most important support functions, the Director collaborates with business unit leaders throughout the organization around all HR matters. Strengthening overall employee culture and driving change initiatives to meet organizational goals is also an important part of the Director's responsibilities.

The ideal candidate will offer:

- 10+ years in a senior leadership role within Human Resources.
- A Master's degree in a related discipline is preferred, or an equivalent combination of experience and education. A CHRP designation is an asset.
- Prior experience in a complex public sector environment is an asset.
- Understanding of the public sector budgeting processes is an asset.
- Demonstrated record of successfully developing and executing strategic human resources plans.
- Excellent leadership, communication, decision making, problem solving, conflict resolution and planning skills.
- Demonstrated ability to establish and maintain effective and positive working relationships with all levels of civic staff, elected officials, unions, government agencies, media and the public.
